

Engineering Internship

jobcode US039

Houston

Company

We are a manufacturer of automatic bag form-fill-seal machinery for packaging consumer and industrial products located in Texas. Further more we manufacture corrugated pallet assembly machines.

Trainee

The intern gains knowledge of engineering practices, administrative operations in manufacturing and equipment used to package products in bags. More specifically: In the department of engineering he/she will deal with order entry, development of bills of material, drawing retrieval, AUTOCAD 2000 drawing as well as filing and retrieval. In the department of materials he/she will do parts retrieval and computer administration of inventory.