

Intern for TV / Video / Film Production

near London

Duration 3 months

jobcode UK022

We create inspiring, effective and engaging content that helps your business stand out from the crowd. From bespoke online and mobile content to TV commercials, corporate videos to multimedia branding and web development, our talented, award-winning creative team deliver professional, broadcast quality content across every format.

We are looking for an intern who has an interest (and some experience) in video and tv production, to help with a number of forthcoming projects. The role will be a lot of everything - admin, research, production assisting, and dependant on experience may also involve assisting with editing and production shoots. We need someone again computer literate, fluent in English, with some knowledge of the industry, and if possible knowledgable about how online marketing works (such using Facebook, Twitter, forums, social networks etc).
